

HOW TO GET GIRLS: A Guide

by Aubri Anne Carrell

A lot of guys in the modern world struggle with the common dilemma of how to properly treat the females in their life. Well, you don't have to worry anymore, gentlemen. I, a real life female, am going to show you a list of things that makes all girls go completely crazy. If you follow this list precisely, you are guaranteed to have girls falling at your feet:

- 1) Girls want to know that you like them for more than just their looks, so make sure you don't compliment them on their looks very often. They'll take it as objectification.
- 2) Using cuss words around women shows that you have swagger. Women like swagger.
- 3) Post lots of cell-phone mirror selfies on Facebook. Girls think they're really hot. Make sure you're shirtless.
- 4) With the feminist movement growing, you have to be careful not to be too chivalrous. Girls will be offended if you open doors for them because it makes them feel like the weaker sex.
- 5) Girls like to feel useful. Make sure you ask them to do lots of odd jobs for you that you could easily do yourself, like making a sandwich.

- 6) Girls like men who are honest. Tell her if her butt looks big in those jeans.
- 7) Girls are crazy for men who are emotionally strong. If you apologize for wrong-doings, you appear weak. Women don't like that.
- 8) The majority of women go crazy for Duck Dynasty-like full beards.
- 9) Another fool-proof way to get girls is to whistle at them when they walk by and then mutter "Mmm, 'dat booty" while they're still in earshot.
- 10) Girls don't like men who are overly-attached and clingy. To avoid appearing that way, I recommend talking about other girls to prove she's not the only girl you think about.
- 11) They want you to get to know them, so ask them personal questions like how much they weigh.
- 12) If you wear a bow-tie, girls will think you're gay. Instead of formal attire, wear T-shirts and basketball shorts every day. It proves how athletic you are.
- 13) You don't look like a fool with your pants on the ground. You look awesome.
- 14) After using the bathroom at her house, leave the toilet seat up. It'll show that you feel at home and are comfortable with her. She'll appreciate that.
- 15) Make sure to talk about how good you are at things so she knows you have talents.
- 16) Women think jokes about flatulence and other bodily functions are hilarious.

17) Never take her advice. That'll prove that you didn't know how to do it the first time and it will make you look stupid.

18) Women love a man who takes control of the relationship because they really love leadership, so make sure you tell them exactly what to do at all times.

19) Girls love to do household work, so never try to help around the house. It'll make you look much too feminine, and girls want a manly man. So just take a seat and watch some football.

20) Make them pay for dinner occasionally because then they feel equal to you and empowered.

21) Girls like to know you're family-oriented so if you still live with your parents at age 30, that's fine. Girls dig that.

22) The taller your socks, the more attractive you are. So wear those socks high and proud, especially with sandals.

23) Girls don't like the smell of cologne. They like the natural smell. The one that proves you've been working out. That makes you a real man.

24) Girls like being summoned by a casual horn-honking. So please, sit in the driveway and wait for them to walk out to you.

25) Girls don't like romantic gestures to be cliché. Make sure you don't do anything for Valentine's Day, or anniversaries. That's what everyone else does and she wouldn't want you to follow the crowd.

26) Women love the anticipation of waiting for texts, so be sure to wait a few hours, or days even, to reply.

27) She wants to know that you're achieving great things, so you can't forget to update her everytime you get a new high score on your video game.

28) When you're driving a girl in your car after she just did her hair, roll down the windows. She'll love the feeling of the breeze blowing her hair all around.

29) Women love competition, so feel free to occasionally pull up a picture of Kate Upton so she can be aware that she needs to work harder in order to please you.

30) Women thoroughly enjoy that derogatory rap music that you most likely listen to. Especially the parts that glorify their bodies. It makes them feel more confident.
